USSU Report

Over the past month, the University of Saskatchewan Students' Union has gone through an exciting transition period as we said goodbye to our outgoing executive team and welcomed a new group of student leaders. I want to sincerely thank Emma Wintermute, Owen Deis, Norah Jacob, and Emily Hubick for their dedication and hard work throughout the 2025–2026 academic year. Their commitment to student advocacy, governance, and community building had a meaningful impact on students across campus.

As the newly elected President of the USSU, I'm excited to work alongside Elmer Vincent (VP Operations & Finance), Ashley Mendez Rosales (VP Academic Affairs), and Azul Gonzalez Avila (VP Student Affairs). Together, we are committed to continuing the important work of supporting students and strengthening the student experience at the University of Saskatchewan.

This year, our focus will be on listening closely to students, understanding the challenges they face, and taking action on the issues that matter most. Whether it's affordability, academic support, student wellness, or creating stronger connections on campus, we want students to feel heard, supported, and at home in our university community.

We look forward to collaborating with the university administration, faculty, and students to create the best possible student experience on campus. I'm excited for the year ahead and the opportunity to advocate for and work alongside students every step of the way.

Thank you,

Abtin Safaeian
President
University of Saskatchewan Students' Union
