

Report on Strategic Enrolment Management Spring Overview of 2024-25 Enrolment

FOR INFORMATION

Presented by: Jerome Cranston, Vice-Provost Students and Learning

Date of Meeting: April 26, 2025

Subject: Spring Overview of 2024-25 Enrolment

Background:

Each April, Senate receives a presentation on the enrolment report for 2024-25. Part of this update includes sharing the preliminary annual academic year snapshot (attached), which is finalized and then made available publicly at the end of June. The snapshot and the presentation at the Senate meeting will outline key enrolment observations over the course of this last academic year. For example, despite tremendous volatility in international undergraduate enrolment (See Senate Report for October, 2024), USask's overall enrolment held near stable compared to the last academic year. This stability is largely a function of the increase in domestic undergraduate students that enrolled at USask.

At the meeting, the Vice-Provost, Students and Learning will overview other elements of USask's annual enrolment for information and discussion. Given that questions regarding gender have been raised at previous Senate meetings, two key tables are embedded within this document showing the percentages of women at the undergraduate and graduate levels within each college.

Senate members who are interested in further examining USask's enrolment can go to the available dashboards at the following link:

Alignment with the University Plan:

Enrolment goals are established through the process of strategic enrolment management, which includes a set of targets constructed through broad consultation with colleges and schools alongside consideration of internal and external factors. The current enrolment goals can be found in the Learning, Teaching, and Student Experience Plan (LTSE), which is a foundational plan that supports the University Plan. The LTSE Plan took USask out to 2024-25 and work is underway to develop a renewed enrolment plan. Members of Senate have previously been briefed on how strategic enrolment management is undertaken and can anticipate further updates at the October 2025 meeting.
